

How Anita Radosevich can help you get there

Anita Radosevich has helped thousands of people obtain employment with the Federal Government and the private sector.

As the owner of Career Ladders, Anita has helped people since 1992. Her passion is to guide you to transform your work into joy. She does this through skillful listening and research to create effective resumes.

Anita helps people in transition to accentuate their quantifiable accomplishments, competencies, and experiences to be reflected to perspective employers as the perfect job fit. She empowers her clients to increase their chances to obtain positive results before, during, and after the interview.

She enjoys offering this seminar to help others and empower them to make meaningful career and life transitions.

Some of the Jobs in Federal Service Include:

- Accountant
- Aircraft Mechanic Supervisor
- Registered Nurse
- Management Analyst
- Supply Technician
- Intelligence Research/
Operations Specialist
- Information Technology Specialist
- Student Trainee
- Vocational Rehabilitation
Specialist
- Program Specialist
- Medical Technician
- Human Resources Specialist
- General Attorney
- Public Affairs Specialist
- Administrative Officer
- Physician Assistant

For more information about the next seminar or to register
call: 1-888-247-3786 or visit www.federalresumewriter.com

Are You Looking for a Job with the Federal Government?

We Can Show You How

Employment with the Federal Government can offer security, benefits and a wide variety of career possibilities for qualified applicants. For many people, however, the application process can be overwhelming.

Where do I look for job openings?

How do I fill out the paperwork?

How do I know if a job will meet my needs?

How do I get to the top of the pile and get an interview?

Getting a federal job is much easier when you know where to look and how to work within the system. This seminar can show you step-by-step how to apply for a Federal job.

Who Should Attend?

Military

- Veterans
- Disabled Veterans
- Military transition to civilian work

Recent College Graduates

Career Transitions of All Kinds

- Corporate downsizing
- City, County, and other sectors of Federal Government
- People looking for a change

What Will I Learn?

Where to Go and How to Search

Learn the specific web sites to visit for each of the federal government “systems” and where to look on each of them for open positions.

How to Build Your Resume

Learn what items to gather, how to sort the information, and how to put it all together to get the best results.

Creating a Job Plan

Determine your goals and what you want in a position, as well as what to focus on when presenting yourself to an employer.

How to Research a Job Opportunity

This step is crucial to lifting your application out of the pile and getting you noticed. You’ll learn how to use “key words” to stand out as a qualified applicant and win an interview.

How to Submit Your Resume

Each system has its own particular ways of accepting online applications. Learn the “ins and outs” of each system and greatly improve your chances of success.

Can You Really Help Me Find a Federal Job?

We have helped hundreds of people find jobs with the federal government. Many of these people did not know what was available, where to find it, or how to apply. Once you attend this seminar, you will have a big advantage in finding a federal job.

Here’s what they have to say:

“Thank you very much for all the work that you put into my resume. I know that your efforts were a primary factor in all the doors that have opened up to me. Again Thank You, Very Much!”

Glenn M.
Contractor Specialist

“Career Ladders was the help I needed to get my military experience down on paper. With 22 years of active duty in the Air Force and three different career fields, Anita focused on all my evaluations, awards and certificates to put together a Federal Resume that opened the doors to the Civil Service Sector. She knows her stuff!”

Ed R.
Administrative Officer

“Career Ladders opened up a new way of how to apply for federal, state, and local government positions for me. What they did for me I could not do for myself. Their professionalism was more than what I expected and produced positive results quickly. The resumes they produced for me are outstanding and have been very beneficial when applying for a position. Career Ladders, thank you very much.”

Victor L. Bellini